HEARST WRITER IS PAID BY GERMANY WITNESS STATES

Department of Justice Investigator, Bares Part of Bernstorff's Work

DECLARES HALE WAS PAID $15,000 YEAR BY HUNS

Ambassador Urged Berlin Government to Show Him Special Favors

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Dec. 6.—In telling his story of German propaganda in America, A. Bruce Bielaski, chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, today laid before the senate committee investigating bribery and German propaganda cablegrams exchanged in 1916 by Count von Bernstorff, then ambassador here, and the Berlin foreign office.

One of Bernstorff's messages urged that a special favor be shown William Hearst, an American about to visit Berlin as a newspaper correspondent, because he was employed by the Hearst papers which, the message said, had outstandingly placed themselves on the German side.

Bielaski told the committee that Hale was on the Hearst payroll for $200 a week, and also was employed at $15,000 a year by a publicity organization formed in the German embassy at Bernburg, the German propaganda.

Suggesting on June 2, 1916, that the time was favorable to get Hearst to send a first rate journalist to Berlin, Bernstorff told the foreign office that the man selected was Hale, who he said had been a confidential agent of the war and was bound as such by contract to the German government.

"Hale," the ambassador's message said, "is not aware that Hale is our agent, but knows him only as a Germanophile journalist who has contributed leading articles to papers."

Hale, according to Bielaski, was paid by the German government to visit Rumania, and if possible prevent entrance of that nation into the war. Mr. Hearst, Bielaski said, was ignorant of Hale's employment on the latter mission.

Bielaski said Germany never succeeded in seducing an American official. "We except Congressman Buchanan of Illinois, who got mixed up with Von Rintelen in 'Laborers Peace Council'."

A message dated June 5, 1916, said: "Hale tells me, and Hearst confirms, that the latter is rather hurt that on Weizsacker's account the world gets all the important Berlin interviews. I recommend that under suitable circumstances Hale should, for obvious reasons, be given preference as Hearst organs have during the course of war always placed themselves outspokenly on our side."

Five hundred and twenty-seven men from Putnam, Allen, Auglaize, Shelby, Miami, Fulton, Adams, Williams, Henry, Paulding, Van Wert, Mercer, Darke and Butler counties left today for their homes.

Beginning next Monday 36 officers from the 158th Depot Brigade will be discharged each day. The organization of convalescent battalions of overseas officers and men received at the base hospital is being considered by officers here. All Ohio wounded and men from adjacent states will be sent here when they are able to be transferred from receiving hospitals. They will be enrolled in the convalescent battalions for special training. The men will be discharged from service from these battalions.

GERMANY CAN'T TURN RAILS OVER TO ALIENS

(Associated Press Telegram) Paris, Dec. 6.—Alienation or mortgaging of railways, mines or other undertakings in which the German nation is interested is forbidden by a decision announced by the mixed conference being held at Spa. Foreign stocks belonging to Germany, as well as the gold in the reichsbank, come under the provisions of the decision. It is announced that negotiable instruments, documents, public records, articles of art and bills of banks of France and Belgium taken by the Germans during the war will be returned.

Restoration of cash and bank notes will be made to Belgium during the present month. It is also agreed that Germany will remit to the allies the gold taken out of Russia—especially 23,000,000 francs received from the Soviet government.

HERRING IS CHIEF DIET OF SLAVS

Famine Conditions in Petrograd Are Beyond Description, Fugitives In Stockholm Report.

(Associated Press Telegram) Stockholm, Thursday, Dec. 5.—Fugitives from Russia who have reached here say that living conditions in Petrograd are terrible. The famine there, they say, defies the imagination. Flour is selling for 50 rubles and butter and sugar for 150 rubles per kilogram (2.2 pounds). Herrings are the only food obtainable and sell for five rubles each.

All middle class elements are excluded from public eating houses and are dying of starvation by thousands. Hundreds are buried each day between 6 and 9 o'clock in the morning, no funeral being permitted later during the day.

Of a normal population of two millions, only a half million persons are left in Petrograd. The city looks deserted.

Half of all the flats are occupied by red guards and their families. Hotels, restaurants, cafes and offices are closed. The houses of the middle classes are deserted, their furniture has been stolen and the windows have been smashed.

Many widely known persons have been shot or have starved to death recently. There is great nervousness in the neutral legations. The Polish legation has been looted while the Swiss legation has been entered forcibly. The personnel of this legation has left Petrograd.

FOE PROPAGANDA TO BE TOLD TO SENATE

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Dec. 6.—Evidence of German propaganda as revealed by department of justice investigation, both prior and after the entrance of the United States into the war, was to be laid before the senate committee investigating bribery activities and their relation to German intrigue in America. A. Bruce Bielaski, chief of the division of investigation of the department, was to be the chief witness at today's hearing.

The testimony of Arthur Brisbane, owner of the Washington Times, who is charged purchased the newspaper with money loaned by brewers, was in the hands of the committee today. Mr. Brisbane in testifying before the committee yesterday, said he did not know that the loan of $75,000 obtained through C. J. Fiegenapan, a Newark, N. J., brewer, was underwritten by other brewers, and denied that he had written editorials containing pro-German sentiments.

ENEMY DELIVERS 130 'PLANES TO PERSHING'S MEN

Machines Are Assembled at Treves When Yankees Arrive

CIVILIANS INDIFFERENT TO ARMY OF OCCUPATION

American Commander Proclaims Safety of Law Abiding People

(Associated Press Telegram) With the American Army of Occupation, Monday, Dec. 2.—Studied indifference again characterized the German reception of American troops on their way to the Rhine today.

At American headquarters at Treves, General Brown, as military governor, and General Smith, who is in charge of civil affairs, have begun the work of administration. Local authorities in virtually every community have agreed to retain their posts and co-operate in the maintenance of order.

General Pershing has issued a proclamation calling upon the people to return to their normal pursuits and assuring them that if the conduct of military affairs is not disturbed and if good order is kept they will not be interfered with. The proclamation gives information of the places American forces will occupy under the terms of the armistice and explains in detail which towns will be garrisoned and which will be merely included in occupied territory. This proclamation, posted on walls in different places has been read carefully by crowds, but there has been no sign of emotion.

The towns through which the troops passed today presented an appearance similar to those entered on Sunday. Blinds were drawn in many cases and most of the inhabitants remained in doors rather than countenance the invasion by witnessing it. The children in the towns occupied on the first day of the advance and today failed to reappear in their schools. The attitude of the grown-ups was unaltered.

At Treves, 130 airplanes were found ready for delivery to the allies. A small quantity of supplies was also left there by the Germans. Reports made to General Smith indicate that while food stuffs are limited as to variety, there is apparently enough to meet the needs of the people. Prices, however, are very high.

General Pershing's reassurance has gone far to alleviate anxiety that even the phlegmatic inhabitants fail to conceal. It is understood the Americans will rule sternly, but General Pershing, in his proclamation, said law-abiding person need have any fear.

One of the big business changes in the spring will be the removal of the John J. Carroll dry goods store from the Hull building. The lease for the building expires in April and at that time the store will be removed from the present location.

What use will be made of the Hull building after the removal of the Carroll store is not known.

FRANCE AGREES TO RETURN OF BODIES

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Dec. 6.—The nation of the war department that the bodies of American soldiers who lost their lives in France should remain buried in that country until after the end of the war was reached in agreement with the government of France. This was disclosed in the annual report of Major General Harris, adjutant general, made public today.

It was because of this agreement, the report says, that the bodies are interred at the place of burial of soldiers in France whenever this information is obtainable.

The report shows also that a total of 5,827 enemy prisoners were taken as prisoners of war or under internment in this country. Of these 1,411 were prisoners of war, including the crews of German auxiliary war craft seized at the outbreak of the war. Ninety-one were taken by the army in France have been brought to the United States.

BRITISH LOSE 9 MILLION TONS

U-Boats Take Heavy Toll But New Construction Over Half.

(Associated Press Telegram) London, Thursday, Dec. 5.—British merchant tonnage losses were 9,021,828 gross tons from the beginning of the war to October 31, 1918, according to an official statement issued tonight.

New construction of the United Kingdom in the same period was 4,432,236 gross tons, of which 2,300,000 tons and enemy tonnage captured was 716,520. The net loss, was 3,443,012 tons.

The statement says that in the last seven months the output exceeded the world's losses by more than 1,000 tons. In the case of Great Britain, although the output had not overtaken the losses, yet if purchases abroad were taken into account the losses of the last five months were balanced by gains.

Official announcement made in London Thursday night placed the world's losses in merchant tonnage by enemy action and marine risk from the beginning of the war to the end of October 1918, at 15,053,786 gross tons. In the same period 10,849,527 tons were constructed and 2,392,675 tons of enemy vessels were captured. This made the net loss to tonnage during the war 1,811,584 tons.

GERMANY BUILDS PLANE FOR TRIP ACROSS ATLANTIC

Has Wing Spread of 198 Feet and 3,000 Horsepower Engines

GIANT ZEPPELINS ALSO CONSTRUCTED DURING WAR

One Has Engine Power Sufficient For Trip to America and Return

(Associated Press Telegram) London, Dec. 6.—Germans are building an airplane with which they intend trying a trip across the Atlantic and have a Zeppelin under construction with the same idea in view, according to the correspondent at Berlin of the Express.

The correspondent says he learned this when being shown over an aircraft factory at Staaken, a suburb of Berlin, by Managing Director Raasch, a former naval aviator and pilot.

The Staaken works, built during the war, covers hundreds of acres and employs 3000 workers. The machines employed in the later raids on London and Paris were built there. The machine being constructed here for the transatlantic flight, says the correspondent, has a wing spread of 198 feet and engines of 3000-horsepower.

Almost immediately after the armistice was signed the Staaken plant began converting the fighting planes on hand into commercial machines intended to link all the European capitals with Berlin and dozens of planes, built entirely of aluminum are being transformed for postal service.

The correspondent says he has learned that the Zeppelin factory at Friedrichshafen is building an airship for a transatlantic voyage, capable of carrying 100 passengers. It has four engines and eight propellers. Its first flight will be in July next, if the international situation clears up by that time. The trip is expected to be made in 40 hours.

The correspondent was told of the remarkable flight of a Zeppelin in November, 1917. The airship started from Bulgaria, for East Africa with 22 tons of munitions and medicines and a crew of 22. It had arrived over Khartoum in the Sudan, the correspondent's informant declared, when it was ordered by wireless to return, because it was learned that the bulk of the forces of General von Lettow-Verbeck, the German commander in the East African campaign, had returned to its starting point four days after it had left.

Director Raasch claimed that this airship could have gone from Berlin to New York and back without stopping.

CAR MEN RETURN TO THEIR JOBS

Strike Ends After Men and Company Agree on Dismissal of Women.

(Associated Press Telegram) Cleveland, Dec. 6.—Normal street car service in this city was resumed at 5 o'clock this morning after a complete tie-up since early Tuesday morning. A strike service strictly put on after midnight for all-night workers.

Twenty-four hundred motormen and conductors went on strike to force the company to dismiss 150 women conductors. President Stanley of the Cleveland Railway company, promised in an agreement signed last night to do this by March 1. Stanley asked for that length of time so that he might find other positions with the company for the women.

Since Wednesday night, W. D. Mahon of Detroit, president of the International Association of Street Railway men, had charge of the strike for the employees.

Representatives of the women conductors said that the latter were willing to sacrifice their positions on the cars rather than subject the city to the inconvenience of a prolonged labor war over the question of their right to engage in the work.

Before leaving the city today Mr. Mahon made this statement: "I am completely satisfied over the settlement reached. Woman's place is not on the street car. I think the Cleveland case will be accepted as a standard by all the street car companies in the United States."

HOSPITAL SHIP IS NEARING PORT

Last Reported In Heavy Storm and Efforts of Wireless to Locate Her Fail.

(Associated Press Telegram) New York, Dec. 6.—The army authorities here announced today they had been unable to get in touch by wireless with the U. S. S. hospital ship Comfort, which was reported to have been wrecked yesterday afternoon.

The wireless message received from the vessel, which is returning from Europe with American wounded troops, reported that she was delayed by a heavy storm, but was not in danger.

It is believed by the military authorities that the Comfort's wireless apparatus may have been put out of commission by the storm.

Vessels, however, recently have been delayed by the storm conditions known to be prevailing at sea.

The military authorities pointed also to the circumstances that many ships are passing a hazardous and uncharted course which the Comfort was taking when last heard from. If the hospital ship has been in distress she would have been able to signal at least one of these vessels, which in turn presumably would have reported the fact by wireless.

Efforts here to communicate with the Comfort are continuing. The wounded soldiers on board number 401. It is not known whether she carries any wounded officers. The berth reserved for her at Hoboken is on the north side of the same pier from which the transport George Washington sailed with President Wilson on Wednesday for France.

20 MILLIONS PROFIT IN YEAR ON COINAGE

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Dec. 6.—The money making business was highly profitable for the government in the last year. The annual report of Raymond C. Baker, director of the mint, made public today, shows that the seigniorage was $20,538,000 on $43,596,000 worth of coins minted during the year ending June 30. This means that the actual value of the silver, nickel and bronze made into coins was $20,538,000 less than the face value at which they were issued.

The year's work stimulated by war to such extent that the three mints were kept busy 24-hours a day, brought a new record for production. More than 714,000,000 coins were manufactured, as compared with 496,000,000 the year before, a high record at that time. The greatest demand was for one cent pieces, of which 445,000,000 were minted. Next the country needed new dimes and 116,000,000 of these were made; $72,725,000 in silver, 4,222,000 quarters and 24,165,000 half dollars were turned out. No gold was minted.

War currency demands in India and other countries also imposed on the mints the burden of melting down the silver, nickel and bronze for export as bullion. About 150,000,000 of these dollars have been melted up to the present time.

DISORDERS REPORTED IN BERLIN STREETS

(Associated Press Telegram) London, Dec. 6.—Serious disorders have arisen in Berlin and considerable firing has occurred in the principal streets, according to reports reaching the Dutch-German frontier, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Amsterdam. The trouble is said to have been caused by the German Bolsheviks.

The Zurich correspondent of the Paris Journal reported Thursday that the disorders would break out in Berlin Friday evening. The rioters, it was added, would be led by Dr. Liebknecht, the radical-socialist, who was said to have 15,000 well-armed men under his command.

From the foregoing dispatch it is apparent the disorders occurred before Friday evening.

PLEDGES EFFORT TO GET JUSTICE FOR WAR LORDS

Premier Lloyd George Says Peace Delegates Will Demand Trial

WANT RESPONSIBILITY FOR STARTING WAR FIXED

Enemy Aliens Will Be Excluded From British Soil, Premier Says

(Associated Press Telegram) London, Thursday, Dec. 6.—In the detailed restatement of his policy, issued by Premier Lloyd George today, calling for the trial and punishment of the men responsible for the war, however high their place, he pledged the entire influence of the British government at the peace conference to see that justice was done. In declaring for the expulsion and exclusion of all enemy aliens from British soil, the premier pointed out that a considerable proportion of enemy residents in the United Kingdom during the war had abused British hospitality and thus had forfeited their claims to remain.

In his statement, the premier, after paying a warm tribute to the soldiers and sailors of the empire, said: "The Kaiser must be prosecuted. The war was a crime. The deeds that were a crime in the way in which it was planned and in the deliberate wantonness with which it was provoked. It also was a crime in the invasion of a helpless little state and in the wicked and most brutal treatment of that little state. The fact that all these iniquitous things were done in the name of war and under the imperial edict of an autocrat does not change their nature."

"Is no one responsible? Is no one to be called to account? Is there to be no punishment? Surely that is, neither God's justice nor man's. The men responsible for this crime must be punished. Their heads must not be left off because their heads were crowned when they perpetrated the deed."

"The British government invited a body of jurists in England to investigate the matter and they have unanimously come to the conclusion that the Kaiser and his accomplices in the making of this war ought to be tried by an international court. These jurists have strongly expressed their opinion that those guilty of murder on the high seas and the abominable ill-treatment of prisoners."

"The British government will use its whole influence to bring peace conference to see that justice is executed."

"After what has happened in the last four or five years it is impossible to entertain in our midst a population of which a considerable portion abused our hospitality. This has been demonstrated by evidence impossible to ignore. They spied and plotted and assisted Germany in forming plans for the destruction of our country. They offered us hospitality. They thus have forfeited any claim to remain."

"Further, it would lead to inevitable irritation and disturbance if Germans who have been fighting us for four years came here to tell their tales of woe. The mouths of the men whom they for four years sought to destroy and much as I regret that it is impossible to have free intercourse between all nations, I hold we are up against the fact that the last few years, for which Germany alone is responsible, and she must abide the consequences."

"All the European allies have accepted the principle that the nations which must pay the cost of the war up to the limit of their capacity. The allies propose to appoint a committee of experts to examine the best method of exacting the indemnity."

SAYS FOE COLONIES WANT BRITISH RULE

(Associated Press Telegram) London, Thursday, Dec. 5.—Natives of Germany's colonies want to come under British rule, said Walter Hume Long, secretary of state for colonies, speaking at West Minister tonight.

"Our representatives at the peace conference should see that the case for our retention of these colonies is put forward in full strength. It will be a gross injustice to our great dominions to tell them that they are to be given in a large measure, they conquered by their blood and valor, are to pass under the control of anybody but the empire to which they belong."

FIRE OFFICIALS PROBE BARN FIRE

Feed, Grain and Machinery
Valued at $10,000 Destroyed at Ellis Jones'
Farm.

The large barn with cowshed attached on the Ellis Jones farm, two miles east of this city, burned to the ground this morning, destroying 130 tons of hay and farming machinery together with a small amount of grain and feed. The fire was discovered about 4 o'clock this morning. A tenant on the place, Fred Glassinger, was aroused and told of the fire. Others having arrived on the scene, work was started to save the stock. Nine horses were rescued from the barn and 30 cows from the stable attached.

The main barn—or horse stable—was 84x40 feet, and the cow stable, 50x50, and was built on the foundation of a barn that was burned to the ground three years ago next Monday night. Jones estimated his loss at about $10,000, partially covered by insurance. The origin of the fire cannot be accounted for as no one working about the place uses tobacco in any form and it could not have been started from a smoldering cigar or cigarette stub. Jones immediately sent a state inspector and they are working at the scene of the ruins. They have ascertained from the witness who first discovered it that the fire started in the mow.

FLU SITUATION GROWS SERIOUS

Health Officer Calls On Citizens to Co-operate to Prevent Recurrence of Epidemic.

The health officer further states that all visiting in houses where there is any kind of illness must stop at once and those in houses where there is influenza must wear masks. He said that those attending the sick must wear the mask, including nurses. This is the greatest precautionary measure which can be taken. The physicians of the city are co-operating and placing quarantine cards on all the homes.

HOLD FIVE OFFICERS FOR THEIR CRUELTY

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Wednesday, Dec. 4.—German officials guilty of acts which resulted in injury or danger to British prisoners of war should be held personally responsible, Lord Robert Cecil, former assistant secretary of state for foreign affairs, says. This statement was made in a message relative to the attitude of the German government on the subject of treatment of prisoners, which has been generally discussed since the signing of the armistice. Lord Robert says:

"We cannot make it too clear that the ill treatment of prisoners is not like occurrences in battle, committed in hot blood or ignorance. It is deliberate, cold-blooded cruelty and ought to be punished if there is any relic of justice left in the world."

Printing in China.
The Chinese follow the primitive way of printing from engraved wooden blocks. The matter to be printed is first written by means of ink upon paper which is pasted face downward upon a block of a pear or plum tree. After the paper becomes dry it is rubbed until an inverted impression of the characters is left. Then the blank spaces are cut away and the block is turned over to the printer, who works by hand. He takes care to ink the characters equally and to avoid tearing the impression.

It's easy enough to adopt an alias. Will John Barleycorn travel under an assumed name.

BAT AT HOME EVERYWHERE

Species of the Race Vary as Widely as Their Habits—Not Especially Deadly to Mosquitoes.

As a group bats are of world-wide distribution except in the inhospitable polar regions. They are real mammals and present an extraordinary variation in size, from tiny little creatures, almost as small and fragile as butterflies, to the huge fruit bats, with a spread of wings like that of a wild goose.

The heads of bats are strangely sculptured, some being smoothly contoured and shaped like those of little foxes; others appear like miniature bulldogs; and still others have curious cartilaginous nose-leaves upright on the muzzle. Some have the entire face molded into a hideous mask repulsive to look upon.

Their habits are equally varied to meet special conditions. Some are eaters of fruit alone; others feed solely upon insects, while others bite other mammals, including man, for the purpose of drinking the oozing blood, upon which they subsist. All are nocturnal, but some appear late in the afternoon, before the sun sets. Most species, however, wait until the shades of night have covered the earth.

Throughout the world the majority of the species of bats feed upon insects, but there are many fruit eaters. The teeming insects and plant life of the tropics afford a never-failing food supply, and the center of abundance of these animals is found there. In some localities between 20 and 30 kinds of bats exist, with such vast numbers of individuals that the bat population far outnumbers all other kinds of mammals combined.

And alas! it is not true that bats prey on a diet of mosquitoes!

HAS DOUBLE STEERING WHEEL

Inventors Making Interesting Tests
With Vessel That Makes Use of a
Two-Blade Rudder.

Some interesting tests have been made recently with a dual rudder, illustrated in Popular Mechanics Magazine, in an attempt to demonstrate the possibility of eliminating the reversing turbines of ships. The action is described as follows:

"For normal cruising the plates are folded together. A double steering wheel is employed. When locked, the two members turn as one. At other times, when the two wheels are thrown in opposite directions, the leaves of the rudder are adjusted to desired angles. The equipment gives a boat a brake that is quick-acting; it enables reversal of direction with the engine running full speed ahead, and permits a craft to be turned in its own length. The demonstration boat is able to reverse direction from full speed ahead in nine seconds."

Seeing, Hearing and Tasting!

The resident minister of a very small Western town is quite an enthusiastic worker for Uncle Sam, and at a recent Red Cross benefit social was making a very patriotic speech while selling Thrift stamps.

An old gentleman in the crowd had just returned from a visit to a larger town where patriotism—and some other things—were more plentiful, and being in a very convivial mood, he was buying stamps with more abandon than the rest of the crowd. The preacher, not recognizing his condition, and feeling that such a show of patriotism ought to be commended, paused in the sale to remark: "Now just look at Brother J.—He has just returned from our neighboring town, and he saw and heard what they have over there."

A wag in the rear of the building called out, glibly: "You bet he did! And he not only seen it and heard it, but he's brought some of it back with him."—Indianapolis News.

Why Prices Rise.

This is an actual occurrence in Columbus. A woman who had occasion to use a common drug in making a hair preparation, bought a pound of it at a drug store. She had often bought it for seven cents a pound, but this time was charged 22 cents.

"How is that?" she asked the proprietor. "I never paid more than seven cents a pound for that anywhere before."

"But," expostulated the druggist, "prices have gone way up. Why, I have to pay seven cents a pound for that myself!"—Columbus Dispatch.

The Pest.
American soldiers speak of the house as a "cootie." The French fighter calls it a "toto," and the British a "codder." Among all the armies the pests are known as "trench rabbits" or "seam squirrels." The significant thing is that never are they called lice. The soldier has the same horror of vermin that he had in civilian life, and the very name "lice" carries the suggestion of degradation.

SOLDIERS GIVEN OLD JOBS AGAIN

Employment Bureau Says
That Returning Soldiers Are Resuming Former Positions.

The government is making every effort to retrain men and assist them in returning to civilian life when they are discharged from the army.

The local branch of the Ohio employment bureau is notified each day as to the qualifications of the men discharged from the service and returning to Newark.

On December 5, there were 5 farm hands, 5 clerks, 1 domestic, 2 factory hands and 1 in transportation service discharged at Camp Sherman. On December 6, the Newark men discharged were 5 farm hands, 1 carpenter, 1 electrician, 4 clerks, 2 butchers, 2 miscellaneous or no special employment, 5 metal workers, 1 chauffeur.

So far none of the returned men have applied to the local bureau for employment. The majority of them, have been assured that they can return to their former positions, and most of the manufacturers of the city, have signified their willingness to give the men their jobs back. However the returning men will probably take advantage of a few days' vacation before returning to work.

WILSON IS WORKING BY WIRELESS ORDERS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 6.—Messages directing the disposition of official business have begun to reach the White House from President Wilson at sea, aboard the transport George Washington. Secretary Tumulty, who went to New York to see the president off for the peace conference Wednesday got back to his desk today in time to handle the first of the instructions.

944 MEN FROM CITY IN NATION'S SERVICE

The local draft board yesterday completed and sent to the War Department a report of the different records compiled concerning the selective service men.

The records show that there are 184 enlisted men from the city in the service, and that 760 war inducted through the selective service channels.

ASKS WILSON TO HURRY NEGOTIATIONS FOR PEACE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Bern, Thursday, Dec. 5.—President Wilson is urged to do his utmost to have the peace conference held at the earliest possible date in cablegrams sent today to Washington by the Swiss committee for durable peace. It is pointed out that a prolongation of the present situation threatens Europe with anarchy. The cablegram expresses thanks to Mr. Wilson for his "noble-minded intervention for peace."

DEPENDENCY NOT ESSENTIAL TO GET SOLDIER INSURANCE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 6.—Beneficiaries of deceased soldiers are not required to show that they were dependent on the soldier as a condition for the collection of government insurance on his death. Secretary McAdoo said today, explaining that there is current a misunderstanding on this question. The misapprehension doubtless is due to confusion with compensation regulations which are independent of insurance provisions, he said.

FLU IN SAVOIA.

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Dec. 6.—Six thousand deaths from Spanish influenza have occurred in Savoy, according to a Melbourne dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company. The Australian government has dispatched a medical staff to Savoy.

CONDITION CRITICAL.

The condition of Mrs. Ralph Davis, who is suffering with pneumonia, is very critical.

Making Walking Safe.

Attention has been concentrated upon eliminating many types of accidents and success has attended such efforts to a very great extent, says H. W. Mowery in a recent issue of "The City News." Millions of dollars are expended in making buildings fire safe. Reinforced concrete, wired glass, aluminum doors and window frames are all desirable, but it is evident from the seriousness of the slipping hazard and the position that it occupies on our casualty list, that we must have more action in an effort to make walking safe. More than twelve times as many people are killed by falls on stairs, floors and sidewalks as there are from burning buildings. Wherever people walk or work, every surface of cast iron or steel is a hazard because a little oil, mud, soap water, or even constant wear makes it dangerously slippery. Metals should not be used for tread surfaces unless there is embodied in the wearing surface some effective anti-slip material. Tile and terrazzo floors, because they are not properly cleaned, frequently will cause falls and casualties.

Appealed to Novelists.

Fully a score of novelists have been written round the case of Lesurques, who was wrongfully executed in France for the robbery of the Lyons mail and the murder of the courier; the real criminal was one named Duboseq, to whom Lesurques bore a striking resemblance. The crime also formed the subject of several stage dramas; in one of them Sir Henry Irving scored a success in the dual part of Lesurques-Duboseq.

Eggshell by No Means Fragile.

Nature executed a wonderful piece of workmanship when she put the shell around the egg. Most of us have an idea that the shell is fragile. It is—sometimes; but scientists have established the fact that the average pressure under which white eggs break is 112 pounds, says Popular Science Monthly. Strange to say, brown eggs are stronger than white ones. It takes a pressure averaging 155 pounds to break them, the minimum being 125 pounds and the maximum 175 pounds. When it is considered that the thickness of an average eggshell is .013 and the diameter of the egg 1 3/4 inches, some idea may be formed of their enormous resistance.

Town Built on Water.

Palembang has been called the "Venice of Sumatra" because it is built on a system of rivers and canals. A large share of the houses are constructed on piles driven into the river and on rafts that float about the town. Many of the stores are on these rafts, and it is interesting to see a native row up to a bar store, for example, to make a purchase of a new straw hat. A Palembang native buys about one hat a year, and it is said that he seldom patronizes the same place twice. For the stores drift about so much that he does not worry himself to keep a record of them and their approximate location.

How Japanese Salt Mackerel.

The method of salting mackerel in Japan is very different from that practiced in Europe and America. According to European and American methods the mackerel is cut along the backbone from the mouth to the end of the tail, while in Japan the head is left untouched, the fish being cut only from the shoulder to the end of the tail. This method of cutting is called "opening the shoulder." The gills and internal organs are then removed, the fish are carefully washed and sprinkled with salt, a convenient number are placed in a box, a basket or a mat, and are wrapped in a coarse mat to be carried to market.

The First Alphabet.

The first alphabet of which there is any account is the Phoenician, which consisted of 16 letters, but when translated into Greece it had 21 letters. In the Phoenician language the writing proceeded from right to left. The Greeks, on borrowing the Phoenician alphabet also wrote for some time from right to left. The mode of writing alternately from right to left and from left to right, was then introduced, and finally the direction from left to right prevailed throughout the west to the exclusion of other modes.

Cleaning With Gasoline.

Unless the whole garment is placed in gasoline, the small places will show rings when cleaned. This is caused by using too much gasoline on the grease spot. Brush lightly with a cloth dampened with the gasoline, brush when dry. If the rings are then noticeable hold the soiled part over the steam of a teakettle, and this will remove the unsightly blotch.

The country is waking up to the fact that among the nonessential industries are the ammunition factories.

Well, Knowledge Is Power.

Jimmie had been to the dentist to get a tooth pulled. A few days later a friend of the family, a man whose head presented an extremely bareheaded appearance, called at Jimmie's house. Jimmie squirmed around awhile and finally asked: "Mister Brown, did it hurt much when ya gotcher hair pulled?"

No, Maude dear; when an employer has trouble with his hands it doesn't do him much good to consult a man-cure.

Columbus' Three Vessels.

The Santa Maria was one of the three vessels with which Columbus set sail for America from Palos, Spain, August 3, 1492. She was a good-sized boat, ninety feet long, carrying sixty-six seamen. She was decked all over, and had four masts—two with square sails and two with luteen sails. The other vessels were smaller, and without decks, and they were all provisioned for a year.

AN ANTIQUATED SYSTEM.

The American people elect their governors and legislatures in most states on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November. In most states these officers take their posts soon after January 1. The intervening time is ample.

We elect our congressmen and presidents on the same date. The congress, unless called in special session, does not meet until 13 months after it was elected. Could anything be more ridiculous? And the country has to wait four months before a new president takes his seat.

In the days we are trying to put government on a business basis. If you hire a man to do some job for you in your own business, you don't want him to wait 13 months before going to work. In most cases you would kick if he demanded a month to get ready for the change.

The original reason was that perhaps in the days before railroads, it took people some months to make the journey to Washington by stage. There is no use in running the government today on the stage coach principle.

This arrangement interferes with the work of congress. After the election has passed, the congressmen feel much less interested in the performance of their duties, particularly those who were defeated. They are inattentive. It is notorious what little business is done in the session after election.

It would not probably be difficult to get the state legislatures to ratify an amendment changing the time when the congress meets and the president takes office, if congress would only give some thought to the matter and pass it.

Washington people might object to a January 1st inauguration on the ground that it is not a good time of year for processions. But the country can not hold up its business as merely because Washington wants a blow-out.

A poorer date for the inauguration than that established (March 4) could hardly be fixed. Many may not agree that January 1st would be much of an improvement but if the time isn't pushed back to January it should be extended to May as the Washington weather conditions in March are usually very disagreeable.

It is suspected that Mr. McAdoo resigned because being secretary of the treasury and director of the railroads gave him so much idle time that he didn't know what to do.

It is agreed by all our profound thinkers that prices can't come down because labor costs so much, and labor can't come down because prices are so high.

It will not be necessary to go to France to secure souvenirs of the war, as our tax bills will supply that need for some time to come.

A wealthy Cincinnati man, 63 years old, is to marry a young elevator girl, who has demonstrated her ability to rise in life.

MOTIVE FOR FOOD SAVING.

Many people feel that now the war is won, we have no motive for saving food. There is the motive of generosity to our allies who have fought so nobly in our interest. But selfish people don't consider that very much now.

It is however a good business proposition to send over all the food we can, and in case of famine conditions even to send something to Germany. Europe is seething with unrest, owing to the hard condition that must now be faced. Every form of crazy notion is spreading. Bolshevism and other crank ideas will thrive on hunger and starvation.

The more famine there is in Europe, the longer we shall have to keep a great army over there. Also if these people are to settle down and begin buying our manufactured products of peace time again, they must be helped to get by until next year's crop. The more food we can send to Europe, the quicker business conditions will return to normal.

We believe in forgiving our enemies, but it is doubtful if the Lord meant to suggest our doing it so long as they go around with guns in their pockets.

Food saving must continue. Don't feed the pigs a lot better stuff than what a lot of the noble soldiers of our allies are getting.

DEMOCRACY.

(Christian Science Monitor)

In the international congress called to arrange terms upon which the peace of the world shall be established, it is fitting that the United States should have a part. If there was no other reason, its participation in a conference upon matters arising from the defeat of the Central Empires, to which it contributed in no small measure, would, no doubt, be invited as a matter of international courtesy. But there are other reasons, and perhaps the most potent of them is the fact that, not only for the time of the entrance of the nation into the war, but from the very beginning of the conflict the United States has been a most important factor in the situation. It is not going too far to say that the attitude of Washington toward all phases of the war, from its beginning to the drafting and signing of the armistice, was watched with the keenest interest by the statesmen of the world.

It was not through any act of the nation or through any act of its government, looking to interference in European affairs that the President was tactfully agreed upon by the allied peoples as their spokesman in dealing with communications from enemy chancelleries. It was because he had laid down, in addresses to Congress and in addresses to the people, certain fundamentals which so appealed to mankind that, in time, he came to be regarded as perhaps the clearest enunciator and strongest exponent of the basic questions involved in the struggle.

At the very outset he struck the highest possible note in proclaiming that the United States enter the war that the world might be made safe for democracy. This was idealism, American idealism, and it was looked upon, at first, in many quarters at home and abroad, as simply an oratorical flourish, but as time went on and as it sank in, it was made clear that the way in which the world could be made safe for democracy was through the destruction of autocracy. From the moment the United States entered the war one point, at least, was settled: the world should never cease until the Hohenzollerns, the Hapsburgs, and their kind, were driven from power.

Idealism has marked practically every utterance by Woodrow Wilson since then and at times it may have sounded strange to unfamiliar ears, but it was, after all, only a harking back to democratic doctrines such as the founders of the United States implanted, not only in the Declaration of Independence and in the Constitution of the Republic, but in the heart and conscience of the American people. Woodrow Wilson expounded nothing new, he simply applied Americanism to the solution of a world problem. To this is due the fact that he won at once the sympathy of his fellow citizen; to this is due also the fact that he soon won the attention, then the respect, and finally the friendly sympathy, of all peoples. Even the enemy nationalities sought his intercession and his influence.

It was not Woodrow Wilson, but the founders of the Republic, and at the very birth of the nation, who pronounced incompatible with free government the autocracy which existed in the Central Empires when Europe was plunged into the most terrible of wars. Even nations essentially different in thought and purpose from Germany and Austria-Hungary had come to accept as inevitable, because apparently inseparable from self-protection, many of these conditions, and the United States was regarded as being rather backward than progressive because it was not. It had no ambition to be a great military power. In the making of the United States, standing armies were denounced by the founders as dangerous to liberty; wars for the extension of territory were regarded as unjustifiable dishonors and a reprehensible; bad faith between nations as inexcusable as bad faith between individuals. Woodrow Wilson, like most of his predecessors, had imbibed the spirit of democracy, one of the foundation stones of which is square dealing. It was this spirit, ever alive in the nation, that set Cuba free, and insisted upon her remaining independent; that paid for the Philippines when it could have taken them; that refused to apply the Boxer indemnity to its own uses when China was seen to be in need.

Autocracy for years sneered at "the idiotic Yankees." It regarded democracy as a failure. It heaped ridicule upon the alleged inferiority of the United States. It taught for a generation before 1914, in its principal universities, that there could be no such thing as honor between nations; that no nation should trust another; that treaties were not safeguarded and were made only to be broken; in short that everything the United States held to be essential to the peace and happiness of the world, to honor and justice among nations, to fraternity among men, was puerile, prosensical, weak, unworthy the consideration of a great and proud people.

It is not one of the least, but one of the greatest, among the results of the war that the moralities even into the Declaration of Independence, and the Constitution of the United States, drawn as they were from the experiences of the English people during centuries, are today recognized not only by the democracies of Europe, but by the nations until recently enamored of autocratic sway. It is not strange that Great Britain and France should invite, and offer unstinted welcome to, the highest representative of the American democracy, but that in a hurried and clumsy fashion the disgraced autocracies are striving to set up governments such as their rulers of yesterday ridiculed and condemned is surely remarkable.

No less remarkable is it that President Wilson should be going to Europe to participate in a World Peace Conference in which the destinies of the nations that, only yesterday, composed the most contemptuous and arrogant autocracies of modern times are to be determined. These things are many others associated with the present day, constituting as they do the most extraordinary events in modern history, are too great to be viewed from any narrow standpoint. They concern the future of humanity far more than they do the interests of any nationality or group of nationalities.

FUTURE USE OF SUBMARINES.

(Philadelphia Ledger.)

More explicit rules for the conduct of war at sea will no doubt be laid down by the peace congress or by some similar international body. Whatever changes in present practice are implied in the phrase, the freedom of the seas, it is clear that new definitions of contraband, of the nature and scope of blockade, of the use of mines and submarines, will have to be made. The general principles of international law are unchanged, in spite of German disregard of them. Thus the indiscriminate planting of mines and the sinking of merchant ships by submarines would still be forbidden, even though there were no specific pronouncement upon the subject. Yet both the mines and the submarines are legitimate means of warfare. The proposal to abandon either is not likely to be accepted. Nor would the question even have arisen but for German defiance of law and humanity alike. A formal limitation of the use of both can do no more than emphasize a condition that obtained before the war. In the correspondence between the United States and Germany which followed the sinking of the Lusitania it was pointed out that by its very nature the submarine was an unfit instrument for the capture of merchant vessels, since it had no means of caring for the safety of such vessels or the lives of those on board.

To forbid its use for such a purpose, therefore, would be but to emphasize the essential lawlessness of German methods. The submarine was never intended as a commerce destroyer, and no nation before Germany thought of employing it as such. No nation will now be under any temptation to follow that bad example hereafter. The surrendered U-boats illustrate the futility of fighting. But while the use of the submarine against naval vessels is properly permitted, it is doubtful if it will be very general hereafter. It is not a question of sentiment against the assassins of the sea. The fact is that the submarines have been a disappointment to a large extent even in legitimate weapons. They are far less effective than it was supposed they would be. A naval force has little difficulty in protecting itself against them. If we consider the extraordinary demands they make upon those who man them, it is probable that the tendency to restrict their use will be increased on that ground, apart from all other considerations.

Split Allies at Peace Table
Germany's Last Hope

Germany's well-known cleverness has worked out a grand plan that causes her to look forward to the future with confidence. She hopes to achieve at the Peace Conference what four years of the sword have not been able to get for her. Secrecy being essential, the whole scheme with typical Teuton finesse is loudly trumpeted through the German press and proclaimed from the rostrum, so that if we are not warned at least it is not their fault. It seems as usual that Germany is staking her all on one throw of the dice and this time the little game is to cause dissension among the Allies at the Peace Table and particularly between America and Britain.

In THE LITERARY DIGEST this week—December 7th—there is a very striking article consisting of translations from the German press showing how Germany hopes to gain big advantages when America and the Entente "start to squabble among themselves."

13 KILLED, 23 HURT IN MUNITIONS BLAST

Pompton Lakes, N. J., Dec. 6.—Thirteen were killed and 23 injured here late yesterday by four explosions which destroyed the munitions assembling building of the DuPont company and shook the countryside for miles around. Fire which followed the explosions was confined to the one unit, and the property loss was said to be slight.

With the first blast, hundreds of men, women and children who had relatives working at the plant, hastened to the scene, but because of possible danger to them, guards barred them at the gates. As soon as it was possible, the injured were rushed to the company's hospital at Haskell. It is feared that four or five of the injured may die.

Officials of the company said they believed an employee at work assembling French fusillades, which are filled with fulminate of mercury, had dropped one of them. Exploding, this had set off the stock in the building, which officials claimed contained only 25 or 30 pounds of fulminate.

The assembling building was widely separated from the other units comprising the plant. The killed and injured were all at work in this structure.

350,000 DIE OF FLU DURING LATE EPIDEMIC

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—Between 300,000 and 350,000 deaths from influenza and pneumonia had occurred among the civilian population of the United States since September 15, according to estimates of the public health service. These calculations were based on reports from cities and states keeping accurate records, and public health officials believe they are conservative.

The epidemic still persists, but deaths are much less numerous, according to reports reaching here. A recrudescence of the disease now is occurring in many communities throughout the country, but this is believed to be sporadic, and not to indicate a general renewal of severe epidemic conditions.

Insurance companies have been hard hit by the epidemic. Government reports indicate, although there are no figures available here to show total losses sustained by these companies: The government incurred liabilities of more than $170,000,000 in connection with life insurance carried by soldiers in army camps, not including those in Europe. About 20,000 deaths occurred in the camps in the United States, war department records show.

PURITY

The all-day meeting of the Red Cross, which was announced for Tuesday, was called off because of an outbreak of "flu" in the neighborhood. Rolla Wilkin and Mrs. Susie Keller are quite ill with it.

Funeral services for Mrs. Joseph Hobbs, who died at her home near here, Saturday, were conducted at Eden, Monday forenoon, Rev. L. G. Walker officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Elliott and daughter Miss Elizabeth Elliott, entertained with their annual Thanksgiving dinner, Thursday. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. John Elliott and children, Katherine, Stewart, and J. D. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weaver and daughter, Helen, Mr. and Mrs. John Colville and children Sarah, Ben, Joe and David, Mr. and Mrs. George Wilkin and children.

Dame Hawke returned Sunday to Fort Ethan Allen, Vt., where he is stationed with the U. S. Guards. While at his home here, he suffered an attack of tonsillitis and had to obtain an extension of leave.

A man may get old before his time, but time is pretty apt to catch up with him.

BREW THIS TEA FOR BILLIOUSNESS

Costs next to nothing, yet keeps bowels in fine order and ends constipation.

The head of every family that values its health should always have in the house a package of Dr. Carter's K. and B. Tea.

When any member of the family needs something for a sluggish liver, sick headache, or to promptly regulate the bowels, simply brew a cup and drink it just before bedtime.

It's an old remedy, is Dr. Carter's K. and B. Tea, and has been used for years by thousands of families, who get such good results from its use that they have no desire to take anything else.

Give it to the children freely—they like it and it will do them good. (Adv.)

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! See if tongue is coated, breath hot or stomach sour.

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish, or breath is hot, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, take a tea spoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When the little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy, they know a tea spoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

CONVALESCENCE

"Getting Better" is the most serious time for those who have had grippe, influenza or other severe sickness. Some thing more than ordinary good food is required to build you up. A tonic is needed, and for this purpose doctors usually prescribe some form of Iron, Nux Vomica, Gentian, and Zinc Phosphate.

The Iron especially is very essential but in most preparations it causes constipation. In Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Tablets this is overcome however, by the addition of Aloin to the other tonic remedies.

These tablets contain all of these essential tonics in a very easily assimilated form they make a pleasant safe and sure health restorer and of inestimable value at this time.

Weigh yourself before taking and watch the rapid progress of returning health.

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Tablets may be had at almost any druggist at sixty cents a box. Special strength ninety cents. (Adv.)

GIANT GERMAN GUNS AT ZEEBRUGGE STAND AS MONUMENTS TO BRAVERY OF BRITISH HEROES WHO HELPED BLOCK HARBOR

One of German defense guns on Zebrugge mole.

When the British staged their daring exploit at Zebrugge, blocking the harbor with three concrete-filled ships and penning in the German destroyer and U-boat fleets, the storming of the German land batteries on the mole was the first move. The cruiser Vindictive, with 1,000 volunteers aboard, ran alongside the mole. Gang planks were dropped and the men swarmed onto the mole. The big guns, one of which is shown above, and which opened on the Vindictive as she approached, redoubled their fire, hurling hot steel into the men. Four hundred of the crew were killed or wounded, but the guns were silenced while the "block ships" were run into position and sunk.

PREDICTS WAR'S END
THREE WEEKS BEFORE

JAMES MCFARLAND.

"By the time this letter reaches you the war will be over," declared James McFarland, in a letter to his sister, Mrs. Arthur Roney of South Newark. The letter was written October 20 and was received Nov. 12, the day after the armistice was signed. McFarland declares that the longer the boys are in France, the better they like the life there but none likes it well enough to stay. He says he is well and is getting plenty to eat and all the tobacco he wants.

SEES CEMETERY WITH 15,000 CANADIANS

One cemetery in Belgium containing the bodies of 15,000 Canadian soldiers who lost their lives in the one big drive during 1916, was visited by Private Lawrence Gaimor, son of Patrick Gaimor of West Main street. A letter to his father was written in Belgium, October 25th and reads:

Dear Father:—I was on a big drive in France a couple weeks ago, then they put us on a train and sent us here in Belgium to help the Boche to evacuate this country. We certainly are doing it with a helping hand. There are places here where cities of 40,000 population stood, but now there is not a stone on a stone left of them. We went through the sector where the Boche sent over his first gas in 1916. I saw one cemetery that had nearly 15,000 Canadian soldiers buried in it. There were all killed in one big drive in 1916.

There is hardly a live tree standing here in an area of 400 square miles, there are whole forests that look like an ash dump. On the drive I was on there was not a solid square rod of earth for over sixteen miles that we advanced on, some shell craters would shield 40 men for enemy fire. There were several Coshocton fellows that I saw get killed on the drive. If an insurance agent were present there I think he would have resigned his job."

HAD GERMANS YELLING

FOR PEACE, LETTER SAYS

Letters written early in October show that the boys expected peace to come soon for the way they had the Germans "yelling for it," as George Walton expressed it.

GEORGE WALTON.

expressed in a letter written to his mother Mrs. Laura Walton of 19, East Broadway street. It reads: "I am well and feeling fine and dandy, and if they don't watch out I am going to get too fat to do any fighting. I am just a little over six feet now and only weigh 128 pounds now, so watch for me when I do get started. We have been having some fine weather over here but here lately it has been getting pretty chilly at nights. We are where we can hear the toll of the big guns now, and they sure do sound like thunder when they start. Say you should see my house now. I have all the comforts of home, even a hot bath and a good bed over my head when I sleep, and don't get up until seven in the morning. The only trouble is I bump my head when I try to stand straight. I can not tell you much about this country in my letter for I would have to mention some name and that is not allowed. So I will have to wait until I come home to tell you about it. From the way they have got them yelling for peace now, it doesn't look as if it would be long. But you can never tell, and we can not expect peace in a moment for there is some mighty big propositions up in front of Germany to come down to, but she has got to come to them."

His address is: Battery C, 134th U. S. F. A., A. E. F., via N. Y.

MARTINEBURG.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Deal received a telegram from Washington, D. C., Tuesday evening, stating that their son James Deal had been severely wounded in action on October 1. Mr. Deal has been in the army for one year, having gone from Summit county where he was employed. No word has been received from him for some time.

The school board has accepted the resignation of Miss Frances Rouse, principal of the high school. Miss Rouse has shown ability and efficiency in the school room and patrons and pupils regret her going. She has since accepted the principalship of the Utica high school. The school board has been able to fill the vacancy by securing Vernon W. Barnes of Summit, O., who has recently returned from an army training camp. He comes highly recommended and eminently qualified for the work.

Thanksgiving passed quietly with all business practically suspended. The inclement weather kept many away from the union service in the evening. Rev. J. H. Barnes of Utica gave an eloquent and inspiring address on the theme "The Strategy of the Cross."

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold a bazaar in the town hall Saturday evening, December 14. Admission ten cents with luncheon free.

Those on the sick list are Misses Helen Allen, Dorothea Allen, Grace Evers, Olive McKee, Leah Funk, Ida Baker, Mrs. W. B. Shontz and Mr. Tom Davis. Some are victims of the influenza.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Freese and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Freese of Newark spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Margaret S. Freese.

Harvey Humphrey of Mt. Vernon, a soldier of the A. E. F., spent Sunday with his grandmother, Mrs. Emma Humphrey. He was returned from "over there" on account of eye trouble. He counts it a great experience to have been in France and near the firing line.

LOST SCULPTURE OF REIMS

Works of Art of Unfortunate City That Rivalled Those of the Greek School.

Four years ago the sculpture of Reims was one of the three great, original groups in France, the others being Chartres and Amiens. How they escaped, heaven knows, but they did. Saint Denis, Senlis and Laon, equal in beauty and in quality, fell easy prey to one set of sodden savages or another until only a few precious fragments are left, mutilated almost beyond recognition. Paris has been further degraded by barbarous restoration, and therefore Chartres remains as the exemplar of the high hieratic school of the twelfth century, Amiens of the supreme fulfillment of the thirteenth; for the great gray cliffs of Reims, with their patchless flowering of inconceivable, incredible statues, have been blasted by shell and chained by fire, and the exquisite sculpture of all the craftsmen of France has crumbled, crumbled and fallen into indistinguishable dust.

I think it was the greatest sculpture of the middle ages; greater than Chartres, for this was merely a triumphant detail of architecture; greater than Amiens, since it was less cleverly naturalistic, more Greek in its proportion and line, and more vital and varied in its vivid characterization, writes Ralph Adams Cram in the Yale Review. Medieval sculpture is often dealt with as inferiority, patronizingly commended as all very well, considering the time. I regard it as a school of sculpture that stands on the same level with that of Greece. Here at Reims were many schools, many masters and each following had its own personal qualities. In all, however, we find a truly Greek quality of line and composition, a sense of dignity and power that is unique, vivid and convincing characterization, and an indwelling devotion and religious passion that find their match neither before nor since.

FROWNED ON 'ALL LUXURIES

At Many Times in Different Periods an Effort Has Been Made to Enforce Simplicity.

Luxury taxation is by no means a new idea. In Rome, more than 2,000 years ago, the Oppian law enacted that "no woman should possess more than half an ounce of gold, or wear a dress of different colors, or ride in a carriage in the city or within a mile of it except on occasions of public religious ceremonies." In 187 B. C. a law was passed to limit the number of guests at entertainments.

A limit was set on the cost of funerals and of funeral monuments. And there would certainly be some outcry in this country against the methods of Julius Caesar, who had officers stationed in the market place to seize provisions forbidden by law, and sent soldiers to feasts to remove illegal eatables!

In our own country, the fourteenth century found extravagance in dress rampant, and during the reign of Edward III laws were made to restrain it. Food, also, has been regulated by old English laws. In the reign of Edward II a proclamation was issued against extravagant catering in the castles of "great men."—London Tit-Bits.

Everything Was All Right.

One of the policemen who took part in the bandit fight on Montgall avenue the other day called his home immediately after hostilities ceased, to assure his wife that he was not injured. His wife was in the apartment upstairs, but his mother-in-law was there and answered the telephone. She took the message and then went upstairs to reassure her daughter. "Now, don't get excited," she said, "for there's nothing serious. Now, everything will be all right, but you know the police have had a big fight with some train robbers out by the Belt line, and your husband—"

The wife slowly, softly, slipped from her chair in a dead faint. Ten minutes later she was revived. Then she said: "Well, go on, tell me the rest."

—And he called up to say he was all right, and will tell you about it at supper time.—Kansas City Star.

Electric Cast Iron.

A development of war conditions in the steel industry of the United States has been the demonstration of the possibility of making pig iron and iron castings direct from steel scrap in an electric furnace—something never accomplished before. It has been claimed that such iron, cast in the form of castings, is far superior to the same castings made from ordinary pig iron, melted and cast. Tests of this new iron recently made at Columbia university demonstrate its high quality. Its tensile strength was shown to be 40,730 to 45,000 pounds per square inch, much higher than that of ordinary cast iron.—Scientific American.

Frog Catcher Enlists.

Though Fritz is on the jump, his fate now is all the more certain. Peter Charon of New Haven, official frog catcher for the laboratories at Yale university, has enlisted in the marine corps.

"There isn't much doing in the frog line now," says Charon. "Before the war you used to hear them churning out their cries of 'Jug of rum, Jug of rum' but now you can't find any of the creatures down our way. Besides there's no market since the laboratory men have all gone to war."

Charon is six feet and one inch in height. The marshes consider him a good addition to their fighting corps.

No man has a sense of humor unless he knows when not to be funny.

Colds and coughs are quickly relieved by Dr. King's New Discovery
Nobody should feel "perfectly miserable" from a cold, cough or bronchial attack for very long. For it takes only a little while to relieve it and get back on the road to recovery when Dr. King's New Discovery is faithfully used. It soon loosens the phlegm, relieves irritation, soothes the parched, sore throat, brings comfort.

Suffering Transmuted.
Unhappiness is the hunger to get; happiness is the hunger to give. True happiness must ever have the tinge of sorrow outlived, the sense of pain softened by the mellowing years, the chastening of loss that in the wondrous mystery of time transmutes our suffering into love and sympathy with others.—William George Jordan.

AMUSEMENTS

GRAND.
Doris Kenyon, famous motion-picture star, and Mary Roberts Rinehart, famous author, spent many hours together in conference over the scenario of "The Street of Seven Stars," Mrs. Rinehart's most beautiful novel, in which Miss Kenyon is appearing at the head of her own company, De Luxe Pictures, Inc. Mrs. Rinehart has been particularly interested in Miss Kenyon's appearance, as she believes, Miss Kenyon looks the part of Harmony Wells, the heroine of the story, more than any other star on the screen today.
"Miss Kenyon is charming. Entertainment, story and photoplay are good, and the technical handling and acting throughout are good."—Dramatic Mirror.
ALHAMBRA.
Tonight and Tomorrow.
To be living under a cloud, not knowing the name of your father, and then to be falsely accused of murder, seems about to be enough had luck for one man. But who would not bear this willingly if it brought the love and trust of a beautiful girl as a compensation—particularly if this girl brought back the light of happiness in the form of a restored father and a cleared name? Such was the experience of John him back to prison."

This was the order from the warden's son to Chayne Harry, a convict who set out from the solitary cell of a western penitentiary on one of the strangest missions ever undertaken.
Universal drama of the screen, in which Harry Carey, ace of Western actors, stars, we see the result of this strange errand as it is told for the Universal camera with dramatic punch.
To see a strong photodrama carried to a remarkable conclusion, see "Three Mounted Men" Sunday at the Auditorium theatre.
Thomas Murray, noted vocalist with render several selections.
Borrowed Clothes.
Mr. Charles Chaplin has been booked for a special three day engagement at the Auditorium opening next Monday and will be seen in the Lois Weber production De Luxe, "Borrowed Clothes." This is the first production Mrs. Chaplin has appeared in since her marriage to that famous million dollar comedian.
An appealing story of a young girl's willingness to sacrifice her own happiness in order that the ambitions of her sister and parents for wealth and social prominence may be gratified has been screened in "Borrowed Clothes," a six reel Lois Weber production, fea-

Riders of the Purple Sage.
One of the strangest chapters in American history is vividly presented in the great photoplay, "Riders of the Purple Sage," in which William Farnum will appear at the Alhambra theatre for two days, beginning Monday.
Based on the Zane Grey novel of the same name, "Riders of the Purple Sage," relates a story whose setting is Utah in the early days of the Mormon settlement, and gives an illuminating insight into the practices of some of the former leaders of that sect.

"Experience."
There are many beautiful types of fascinating girlhood in George V. Hobart's modern morality play, "Experience." Mr. Hobart spent two years in writing the play, but an even greater task confronted the producers, selecting the various types of girls for the play. For the character of Love, hundreds of girls were considered before an ideal was found. There was much difficulty in selecting one to play Frivolity. This is a particularly difficult

Peck's Bad Boy.
Kids, grown-ups and in fact everybody will shout with glee on learning that Charles Benner's famous Peck's Bad Boy is to come back for two performances, Saturday, December 14th. Now that the war is over, Mr. Benner has had the play entirely re-written, not a dull minute or dreary moment is to be had in the new dialogue, for the reason that when you are not laughing at good fun, you are listening to the latest music of the breeziest kind that never fails to keep the audience in good humor. Irving Berlin, who is known the world over as author of "I Hate to Get up in the Morning," has reconstructed "Peck's Bad Boy," making it an up to date musical farce comedy.

part and requires a young girl with a certain manner of reckless abandon. Then there was another tireless search to find the young lady for the character of Excitement, for she must be restless, alluring and even dangerous. One of the greatest difficulties they had was to find a young lady for the role of Slander. Until it was seen by the actors that Slander was a good part, she would undoubtedly refuse to accept it. This same trouble was found in selecting a young miss for the role of Deceit. Three of the most important characters in "Experience" are Passion, Intoxication and Pravity. The greatest possible care had to be used in selecting a young lady for Pravity, and as for Passion it was found that the greatest discrimination must be used in selecting an actress for this role. For Intoxication, it was discovered that the only one who could play this was a young person whose strongest beverage was from the soda fountain. There are a few of the difficulties that were successfully overcome by the producers in selecting the young ladies for the various roles in "Experience."

"Experience" comes to the Auditorium for one night only, Saturday, December 7.
Three Mounted Men

LYRIC.
If you have never seen Billie Byrne, the female impersonator, in a male part you will have the chance tonight as he is playing two parts at the Lyric in "Miss April Fool." Billie keeps the other members of the company guessing all through the play as to his sex, and Charlie Byrne, the comedian, falls in love with him while he is the actress, and Hazel Greenway, the soubrette, while he is the college boy.
Oldest Timber.
What is described as the oldest timber in the world which has been used by man is found in an ancient temple of Egypt. This timber is used in connection with stone work, which is known to be more than 4,000 years old. This wood—and the only wood employed in the construction of the temple—is in the form of ties which hold the end of one stone to another. The ties appear to be tamarisk, of which the ark was constructed.

Although not exactly novelties, fall styles in monarchies are advertised.

SOCIAL EVENTS

The Kings Herald of the East Main E. church will meet at 2 o'clock, Saturday with Edwin Dickerson, 103 Jefferson road.

The members of the Country Club bridge club were entertained at the home of Mrs. David Dowden, East Locust street, Wednesday afternoon.

Many Newark guests spent Wednesday afternoon at Bryn Du, the home of Mrs. J. S. Jones. The event was an open-meeting of the Granville Music club and a delightful program was presented.

Mrs. Charles H. Stinson entertained a few guests with two tables of bridge yesterday at her home, North Second street, and is having another small company this afternoon.

Tuesday was the birthday anniversary of W. E. Wallace and a surprise party, consisting only of his relatives, was planned for him at his hospitable home on the National Pike, by his wife and daughters. It was a happy party who enjoyed the bounteous dinner prepared. Mr. Wallace, in a short speech, expressed his pleasure at the gathering and gave all an urgent invitation to be present at another similar banquet to be held in just one year from that date.

Music enlivened the evening until a late hour. Those who enjoyed his hospitality were: Chas. M. Pitzer and family and Chas. L. Wallace and family.

Numerous events were arranged during the past week-end, the pleasure of Mrs. Lowenstein of Cincinnati, who has been the guest of Mrs. Daniel Altshool and Mrs. D. T. Wright of Washington, who has been the guest of Mrs. Edwin Eschgen of Hudson.

On Thursday, Mrs. Altshool entertained with a bridge luncheon at her home. The table appointments were enhanced by a centerpiece of scarlet roses. On Wednesday, Mrs. Fred Wright entertained at luncheon at her home in Eddy street for the two out-of-town guests and a charming luncheon and afternoon party was given on Thursday by Mrs. J. R. Fitzgibbon of North Fifth street. Sunburst roses adorned the luncheon table.

Mrs. Wright left for Washington last evening and Mrs. Lowenstein returned to Cincinnati this morning.

The Kings Herald of the East Main street M. E. church will meet Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Kenneth Robb, 426 East Main street.

"Pleas tell me what is the correct apparel for the death of a parent and the length of time it should be worn?" asked a woman who had recently lost her mother.

Milady's Boudoir

It is in such regions as the neck, arms and shoulders that the curves of beauty in all their sweet and seductive sinuosity are most attractive and, therefore, desirable. And it is just here that the graceful rounding of the female form is as of consequence by their absence. In the face, the complexion, the expression, the play of features, is the thing, but when we come to the consideration of the neck, shoulders and arms, we look for form and line, rather than for color.

Flesh full, firm and lustrous tords it over these celestial regions of female anatomy. Muscular fiber, with the right sufficiency of fat to round off the angles and fill up the odd corners, is the only dressing for the bones which lurk behind all human loveliness. This right rotundity of lustrous neck, of snowy shoulders and dazzling arms that dapple as they move is only obtainable, therefore, by muscular development stimulated by judicious exercise. These tissues must be built up when lacking, or toned down here superfluous.

Most imperfect necks owe their imperfections to a pronounced prominence of tendons where muscular tissues and fat should be and, these unfilled hollows above and below the collar bone, are known to many as "salt cellars."

Arms and shoulders can only become beautiful by being put through the uses for which they were designed. Arms which do nothing but swing idly and mechanically when their work is over, are certain to remain little else but skin and bones. It is perfectly useless to look for perfection in an arm which is never called upon to perform any of these functions, which it was presumably designed. Exercise and plenty of it, is the only cure for scraggly and angular shoulders and neck.

Our Boys and Girls

One mother that I know has taught her little toddlers to pick up their toys after using, just by making the task interesting. She says that being a "busy housewife with three healthy babies to look after, has made it necessary that they do some of the work themselves and that she thinks children should be taught to help as well.

The great problem she faced was to get the scattered toys picked up and put away in their proper place. So she found a good sized soap box which she covered with domin and to which, on the corners she fastened castors. At night this is called the "freight train" and it is a very simple matter to get the children to push it about the room and scatter up the "freight."

To make it easier for the mother who has to care for a small baby, I would suggest two features that might help. They are a shirt dryer and one for the little socks. The former is shaped like a little shirt, is made of wood and hinged in the center so that it can be doubled over to insert the shirts and detached when dry. It prevents their shrinking. The sock dryer is shaped like the little socks and can be used for long stockings as well.

RED CROSS VISITOR WRITES OF SON'S DEATH

The family of Frank Andrews in 55 East Channel street, has received a letter from Miss Aetilia Wexler of the Home Communication Service of the American Red Cross, regarding the death of their son, Private Charles R. Andrews of the 25th Infantry.

The letter states he died of bronchial pneumonia October 14 and was buried with full military honors in the military cemetery at Winchester, where his grave has been properly marked and registered.

The letter continues "as the hospital visitor appointed by the American Red Cross, I am in close touch with our boys and can assure you your sons and every kindness and professional care to be had. That no dead brave soldier seems needless to add."

"Hell is paved with good intentions," quoted the Wise Guy. "And even here men a fellow slips up on them," added the Simple Mug.

Several of the former issues continued to fluctuate in their prices of the previous day, while best sugar added 1 1/2 points to its 5 1/2 point advance of that session. Oil and minor equipments also rose from 1/2 to 1 point but rail shipments and stocks dropped further, irregularly with copper and motors.

Trading followed its usual course, prices sagging quite generally before the end of the listless first hour, prices

Mexico Can Claim Dahlia.
The dahlia is a Mexican plant that is of Mexican descent. It is said that it was taken from Mexico to Europe not to be admired as a flower, but to be served on the table as food. According to historians of the dahlia, there are nine varieties of the flower indigenous to the high sandy plains of Mexico. In the matter of the dahlia as a food the story runs that the present blossoms have been developed from Mexican tubers introduced into Europe for the purpose of supplanting, or at least supplementing, the potato, which had so very long before had been introduced into Europe from South America—some say from Peru, and others claim the honor for different parts of our western continent.

Maybe It's Both.
Said the near cynic, "Ninety-nine persons out of a hundred attribute the poet's long hair to eccentricity. But the hundredth surmises that the poor fellow hasn't the financial means to get his hair cut."

"Salome" Pleases.

Theda Bara in "Salome," the great sensational picture which has had unprecedented run in the large cities of the country, had its first showing here yesterday afternoon and evening. The Auditorium was packed to capacity at both performances of what is possibly the most talked of picture today ever shown in the city. There is wonderful photography in its making and Theda Bara is shown in many moods. The dance of the seven veils is truly sensational and the censor must have turned his head while it was being demonstrated.

GERMAN PROFESSORS DEMAND ASSEMBLY

(Associated Press Telegram)

Berlin, Wednesday, Dec. 4.—Eight hundred and forty six members of faculties of German universities have signed a statement demanding the earliest possible convocation of a national assembly. Among the reasons given by the signers is that the new American congress which comes into office on March 4, "likely will be dominated by President Wilson's fourteen points." The call concludes: "If we desire an event half-way peace which would serve the vital interests of Germany, we must at least conclude a temporary peace before that time."

BERLIN SAYS YANKEES WILL OCCUPY CITY

Copenhagen, Thursday, Dec. 5.—Allied and American forces will temporarily occupy Berlin as exercising police supervision, according to the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung of Berlin, which says that an American wireless dispatch to this effect has been intercepted by the Germans. The newspaper says that Mannheim will be similarly occupied.

The reason for this action on the part of the allies is said to be a "reprehensible incident during which a superior of a prisoners camp shot three Frenchmen."

We can get used to anything, but it takes the Jingo a long time to adjust himself to peace.

HOW TO FIGHT SPANISH INFLUENZA

By Dr. L. W. Bowers.

Avoid crowds, coughs and crows, but fear neither germs nor Germans. Keep the system in good order, take plenty of exercise in the fresh air and practice cleanliness. Remember a clean mouth, a clean skin, and clean bowels are a protecting armour against disease. To keep the liver and bowels regular and to carry away the poisons within. It is best to take a vegetable pill every other day, made up of May-apple, aloes, jalap, and sugar-coated, to be had at most drug stores. Known as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. If there is a sudden onset of what appears like a hard cold, one should go to bed, wrap warm, take a hot mustard foot bath and drink copiously of hot lemonade. If pain develops in head or back, ask the druggist for Anuric (anti-uric) tablets. These will flush the bladder and kidneys and carry off poisonous uric acid. To control the pains and aches take one Anuric tablet every two hours, with frequent drinks of lemonade. The pneumonia appears in a most treacherous way, when the influenza victim is apparently recovering and anxious to leave his bed. In recovering from a bad attack of influenza or pneumonia the system should be built up with a good herbal tonic, such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made without alcohol from the roots and barks of American forest trees, or his Iron Tonic Tablets, which can be obtained at most drug stores, or send for Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

Public schools have closed temporarily.

The Granville Library Association will hold its annual meeting on next Monday evening at 7:30 in the Methodist church. A good program has been arranged and all interested in the library are urged to be present. A good work is being done by the library and the opportunities for greater usefulness are almost unlimited. Part of the program will be given to the discussion of ways and means for the future good of this institution.

C. P. Slack has gone to Chicago to attend the annual fat stock show.

Mr. and Mrs. Roe Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. George Stuart, and Mrs. T. J. Cordan are among the latest victims of influenza.

Postmaster John Geach reports the Granville sale of U. S. S. for November to have been $1,865 Total to December 1st, $103,910.

Kappa Phi sorority house in South Cherry street, is being used as a temporary hospital for influenza patients among college girls. Since the Thanksgiving vacation conditions in regard to the epidemic have changed in that institution.

The Women's Guild of St. Luke's church will hold a baking sale next Saturday, December 14th, at the gas office on the south side of Broadway.

Dr. L. E. Davis, who has been attending the meetings of the Ohio State Dental society in Columbus, during the week, has returned home and resumed work in his office.

You will save money—you can buy a better quality garment and have a larger variety to select from, at the same price as you will pay later. There will be no change in the spring prices. WIRELESS AIDS SUBMARINE HUNT

Allies Had Good Method of Keeping Track of Under-sea Pests and Hampered Operations.

London, Nov. 29.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Allied methods of gaining information about the movements of submarines during the war never will be divulged fully, but the accuracy of the daily reports has proved one of the surprising features of the war here. Very few submarines left their bases unknown to the allied fleet commanders. In addition, the number of the vessels, the duration of their cruises, and the locality in which they were ordered to operate, were known in nearly every case.

Such information usually was known within a day of the time the submarine left. It was transmitted to allied wireless stations which had means of checking it up to a certain extent. Wireless operators at sea and ashore heard the submarines reporting in position to Germany ever night and their positions were learned by a system of reckoning the wavelength. This was done so accurately that the submarine could be definitely located as close as a mile, which is very close in the almost limitless expanse of the sea.

This assisted the allied anti-submarine patrols. They could keep the Germans on the move by remaining in waters they knew the U-boats were ordered to operate and did not waste time hunting where it was unlikely the prey was working.

HELD FOR FORGERY.

W. C. Pickett, aged 55 years, was arrested Thursday by Patrolman James Gorman at the corner of Walnut and Fifth streets. Pickett is charged with having committed several forgeries, using the name of L. M. Johnson of Lilly Chapel. The police department has been looking for him for some time up on complaint of local merchants who were victimized.
